

PRAYERS FOR WEEK OF MAY 3 to MAY 9, 2020

Sunday: Heavenly Father you hold all things together, but I often forget this and lean on my own understanding. Please send your holy angels to surround me and all those in peril today. Be a fortress of strength and courage to those who face persecution and deliver us all from the enemy who seeks to destroy us. Amen.

Monday: Dearest Jesus, you are the rising star that brings brilliance to the darkness of my soul. I am amazed when you lift and carry my burdens. Thank you for your continual compassion and care when life is hard, and troubles come. Teach me to comfort others with this same love and bring your light to their desolation.

Tuesday: Merciful Father, I thank you for your overflowing love. Even when I turn away you return me to a new life in Jesus. Your grace is sufficient to redeem me from sinful desires and thoughts each day. Wash me anew through this daily word of hope. Set me on a new course to proclaim and tell others about it. Amen.

Wednesday: Almighty Jesus I trust your hand to lead me into green pastures. You are my good shepherd. Sometimes you take me into a sad and lonesome valley where I cannot always feel your presence. Still I thank you for being there and working to fulfill our greater purpose for my life. Guard and keep me in your plan with your hand holding mine. Amen.

Thursday: Jesus you are the light of the world and nothing is hidden from you. I am sorry for returning to the darkness of this world. In the midst of this current strife, set me free from my soul's darkness to find your peace. Thank you, each day for the light, comfort and joy found in your presence. Amen.

Friday: Dear Father, your words of blessing and wonder fill me with joy. You continually remake me through your promises and provisions. You go beyond what I need as you answer my prayers. You are a bountiful, good and gracious God. May my life this day be a witness to your glory and honor. Amen.

Saturday: God, keeper of all your promises, I am grateful you have called me as your child. You know everything about me and still love me. Create in me a clean heart today, convict me in the power of the Holy Spirit. This is the good news I will carry to all I meet this day who are in need of your consolation. Amen.
